I second the 'use Chromium' It feels slightly cleaner, and doesn't have Flash I keep Chrome around for when I need Flash, but prefer Chromium. On two of my Macs, there were only two versions of Chrome present, so I didn't bother performing the hint here. :HB I'm going to delete, download, and install a new copy I have been running chrome for quite a while now, and mine only has the current version, and the previous version - total 220 MB interesting that some keep more copies than others. I would delete your copy and download it again I have nightly build option and my copy is only 220MB (and only 2 versions in the package). I, too, saw a noticeable improvement in Chrome launch time after dumping all the old versions.
